ABOUT ME

I have a passion for creating video and have worked in British TV and online for all my professional career. I am a creative multi skilled Editor, Animator and Lighting camera operator. In my four years at ASOS and Net-A-Porter I directed, shot and edited video content for both longer lead projects such as season launches, as well as reactive videos to tight deadlines. My work ranges from online youth content to documentary and high fashion. This has given me extensive skills in the pre and post- production process. I have experience directing large scale projects in addition to stripped down productions which demand a self shooting editor.
