

DAVID TANG

David, also known as DTang, is a cinematographer based in Adelaide, South Australia. With sixteen years of experience in the industry, working on all forms of production, including TVC's, music videos, documentary, both long-form and short-form drama, and everything in between, it's no secret that DTang knows his way around a camera. With a suite of qualifications from Flinders University and AFTRS under his belt, David has enjoyed a comprehensive freelance career working on productions with directors local and interstate, production companies, and advertising agencies. His hard work has not gone unrecognised, most recently taking out a Gold Award win at the local Australian Cinematography Society Awards. His work on 'The Great Showcase' took out one of the top spots in the Commercials category.
